- e) Employees are encouraged to maintain a minimum attendance of 15 working days in a calendar month, excluding weekends and approved paid leaves, to be eligible for Earned Leave. If this criterion is not met, Earned Leave may not be applicable for that month.

Required Leave	Prior Information
For 1 day	Same day before the shift time via message
2-5 days	3 days in advance via email
More than 5 days	1 week in advance via email ¹

2. Casual/Sick Leave:

- In cases of sickness or sudden personal exigencies, where an employee is unable to take prior sanction for leave, it is expected and required that the employee should inform immediate to the HR regarding his/her absence on the same day and intimate the expected duration of the same.
- In cases of sickness or sudden personal exigencies, where an employee is unable to inform; notice of leave by family members of the employee will be considered only in extreme emergencies and rarely.
- If the Leave is approved by the HR with required notice but there is no leave remaining in employee's leave bank, then that will be termed as Unpaid Leave and this tenure will be unpaid.
- HR will discourage leave in excess of balance in the employee's leave account. Excess Leave will be treated as Leave without pay. Leave without pay (LWP) in excess of 7 days shall be granted only in case of medical exigencies or extreme family constraints, and shall require the prior approval. LWP in excess of 15 days shall allow only for medical exigencies and shall require documentary proof. Salary shall not be paid for any weekly off's/ Holidays in between leave without pay period.
- All un-availed Sick Leaves will lapse at the end of calendar year.

3. Unscheduled Leave /Not Approved Leave (NAL):

- Any leave not meeting the criteria defined in Approved Leave or Planned Leave will be considered as Not Approved Leave (NAL).
- Any leave Not Approved by HR via email or WhatsApp with respect to its period as explained above. (If the email was sent same day from when the leave period will start or weekend (on Sunday or Monday morning), above Point of NAL will be applicable)
- Leave without permission or not approved by HR and required notice will be considered "UL- Unscheduled Leave" and employee will be penalized by deduction of 2 working days salary and the employee will be liable for disciplinary action also in such cases. (One Day leave + 2 Days fine will be deducted irrespective of leaves are in Balance/Banked.)
- Employee should apply for leave in one go wherein include your expected leave days as well instead of splitting the leave period into two parts for example got approval for 04 days but availed 06 days and later on apply for approval of remaining two days leaves. In that case two days salary will deducted as NAL.

4. EMERGENCY LEAVE:

- a. For emergency leave employee can secure the approval after shift timing. (For ex- If the leave request sent for approval between 09:30AM to 12:00 PM will be approved under emergency leave.)
- b. The leave application after 12:00 PM will be consider unapproved leave.
- c. Above that will be considered under the unapproved leave with three days deduction.
- d. Emergency leave is intended for urgent, unforeseen circumstances. Employees are encouraged to inform HR at the earliest and submit a medical certificate if necessary. Repeated medical leave may require further review. Thank you for your understanding.
- e. In the event that an employee has rendered service for a limited duration (such as one week or up to ten days) within a calendar month and subsequently proceeds on extended leave (whether medical or otherwise) prior to tendering their resignation or exiting the organization, the company reserves the right to withhold the processing of salary and/or reimbursements for the said period.

Furthermore, eligibility for any pending dues, incentives, or benefits shall be subject to the fulfilment of a minimum active working period, as prescribed by company policy. Non-compliance with this requirement may result in the forfeiture of such entitlements.

This policy is instituted to ensure equitable treatment and consistency across all employment cases. For any clarifications or further inquiries, employees are encouraged to contact the HR department.

4.1 Emergency Half Day

Half Day leave would be applicable as of spending five (05) working hours.

- Half Day leave in first shift can be availed from 09:15 PM to 02:15PM
- Half Day leave in second shift can be avail from 01:45PM.
- Half day leave will be unpaid.
- If an employee intends to take a half day leave in the First Half, they must inform before their shift starts. (before 9:15 AM)
- If the half day is for second half, it should be communicated before 12:00 PM.

For emergency half day employee can secure the approval after start shift timing

*The emergency half day will be considered only in exigencies once in a quarter.

*Written approval from admin/HR will be mandatory.

Above that will be considered under the unapproved half day with three day's half day deduction.

4.2 Paid Week-Off Consideration for Excessive Leave Usage

Employees are encouraged to utilize their leave benefits judiciously. Repeated or excessive leave patterns, especially when taken in conjunction with weekends or at the beginning/end of the workweek (e.g., Friday-Monday combinations), may be subject to review.

In such cases, the organization reserves the right to withhold paid week-offs for the concerned period to ensure fairness and discipline across the team. Employees are advised to maintain consistent attendance, and any habitual leave trends may invite appropriate intervention or deduction as per policy.
